

HIPAA Compliance Notice

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

Our Responsibilities

We are required by law to maintain the privacy of your health information and to provide you with this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your health information. We are committed to protecting the confidentiality of your health information and will only use or disclose your health information in accordance with this notice and applicable laws and regulations.

Uses and Disclosures of Your Health Information

We may use and disclose your health information for a variety of purposes, including treatment, payment, and health care operations. For example:

- Treatment: We may use your health information to provide you with medical treatment or services.
- Payment: We may use and disclose your health information to obtain payment for the medical treatment or services we provide to you.
- Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose your health information for our own health care operations, such as quality assurance, risk management, and administrative activities.

We may also use and disclose your health information for other purposes, such as:

- As required by law
- For public health activities, such as disease reporting and prevention
- To report suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence
- For law enforcement purposes
- For research purposes, with appropriate authorization and approval
- To avert a serious threat to health or safety

Your Rights

You have the right to:

- Inspect and obtain a copy of your health information
- Request an amendment to your health information if you believe it is inaccurate or incomplete
- Receive an accounting of disclosures of your health information
- Request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of your health information
- Request confidential communications of your health information
